ARABIC HAD NO WARNING

Captain Finch States That If He Had Been Given a Little Time He Could Have Saved Everybody

(Special to The Herald)
Queenstown, Ire., Aug. 20.—"The Arabic was torpedoed without warning. She sank in eight minutes. If the submarine commander had given me a little more time I could have saved everybody," Captain William Finch, commander of the destroyed liner Arabic made the foregoing statement today after he had told the story of the sinking of the Arabic. Captain Finch himself narrowly escaped death but managed to get aboard a life raft to which he dragged other survivors.

The captain's story of the loss of the Arabic follows:

GERMANS SUFFER LOSSES IN THE VOSGES

(Special to The Herald)
Paris, August 20.—Exceedingly heavy losses are being suffered by the Germans in the Vosges according to the war office this afternoon. The fighting at Lingokops and Schurzmeine is severe. It is at these points that the Germans are trying to regain positions captured by the French troops earlier in the week.

(Special to The Herald)
Berlin, Aug. 20.—Novo Georgievsk, mightiest fortress of the Czar, has fallen. The capture by German troops of this great stronghold at the junction of the Vistula and Narew rivers was officially announced here today. Twenty thousand Russian soldiers were captured at the fortress and the Germans also took enormous quantities of war material.

BRITISH TROOPS MAKE GAINS AT DARDANELLES

An important gain by the British troops on Gallipoli peninsula is announced in an official report on operations at the Dardanelles by the war office today. It states that the left wing of the British forces has made a marked advance in the Anafarta district, the region near Suvla Bay.

ANOTHER WHITE STAR LINER SUNK

(Special to The Herald)
London, Aug. 20, 3 p. m.—Another White Star liner, the Boyle, 6,532 tons, was reported torpedoed and sunk today while bound from New York to Manchester, Eng., with a general cargo. She carried a crew of about 150 men.

Thirteen hundred operatives at the Ocean Electric Co., Bridgeport, Conn., walked out in demand for an 8-hour day.

THREE STEAMERS ARE TORPEDOED

Official Announcement States That the Crews of Each Craft Were Saved
After Submarines Had Done Their Work

(Special to The Herald)
London, Aug. 20.—Two more British steamers were destroyed by German submarines today but no loss of life occurred. The steamers sunk were the Baron Erskine, 5,535 tons, and the Heston, 3,118 tons. The announcement of the sinking of these steamers said that their crews were saved. The Spanish steamer Rana Castillo, 1,718 tons, was also submarined. Her crew was saved. Another neutral steamer was listed as a submarine victim when it was announced that the Norwegian steamer Sverresborg, 1,150 tons, had been sunk.

FOUND ANCIENT COIN.
One of the employees of the street department while working on Daniel street on Thursday unearthed an old English coin of the date of 1723. The coin was in good state of preservation and bore the inscription of "Georgius Rex" on the face and "Britannia 1723" on the reverse.

GOLFERS SCORES HIGH FOR FARRAGUT CUP

Gilford, Bass and Lyall Tie For First Place In Medal Play at Rye Beach Yesterday

There was a field of ninety-four started on Thursday in the fourteenth annual invitation golf tournament of the Abenaki Golf Club at Rye Beach, the largest in the history of the tournament. Scores were high in the qualifying round owing to the heavy condition of the ground from the recent rains. Many of the scores were higher than expected for the reason that it was often necessary to use a niblick on some of the holes to get the ball from the soft ground where it would sink in some cases almost out of sight.

Jesse Guilford, the long-litting former champion of this state, who holds two legs on the handsome Carter cup, tied with C. W. Bass of this city, the present state champion, and with G. H. Lyall of Melrose, for the low medal score of 78, and they will later play it out for the cup for the low medal score.

Unfortunately the drawing for the medal play brought all of the best men at the top of the first division, and the best matches of the tournament will be this morning and this afternoon. The lower half is not as strong as usual, with Whitney Boudin of New Orleans, who is stopping at the Wentworth, as a possible choice for the finals, with either Bass or Guilford, for it looks as though these two will fight it out this afternoon in the semifinals.

There was a good entry from this city and the majority just felt out of the first division, only Bass and James Parker, U. S. N., being in that division. Parker was defeated in the first round.

KITTERY

Breezy Items from the Village Across the River.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Miss Ethel Gerry on Thursday evening in the form of a linen shower by her girl friends at the home of Miss Helen Paul of Dame street, in view of her coming marriage. There were twenty-five present including several from Portsmouth. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all and was most pleasantly passed in the playing of games and with vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. Margaret Gerry presided at the piano, while Mrs. Charlotte Richard Phillips, Mrs. Austin Goggins, and Miss Lottie Windrich favored the company with vocal selections. The house was very prettily decorated with flowers. During the evening the party gathered around a table and Miss Gerry was requested to pull a ribbon, and doing so revealed a large basket filled with many beautiful pieces of linen hidden under the table. The merry party did not break up until a late hour and upon departure all joined in wishing Miss Gerry the best of good wishes for the future.

Mrs. George Trefethen and two children Mary and Forrest of Rye, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Edwards of Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Andrews and young son Newton, of the Junction, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hurd of Brookline, Mass.

Austin Goggins of Old Orchard street is passing a week at Old Orchard with relatives.

Mrs. Samuel Caswell, Mrs. Selwyn Caswell and little daughter Ethel, and Mrs. Eva Lewis and sons Lloyd and George passed today at Hampton Beach.

Mrs. Charles Jones of Eliot was the guest of friends in town on Thursday.

Mrs. Annie Bangard of South Boston is the guest of friends at the Junction.

Mrs. Clarence S. Chick of the Junction was the guest of Mrs. Hiram Sherrill of Lincoln avenue, Portsmouth on Thursday.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. tag day committee was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Stafford.

Mrs. Frank Kuse of Woodlawn avenue attended the Society Circus at Kennebunk on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neal returned to their home in Dover, N. H., on Thursday after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burnham of Friend street.

Mrs. Harvey Grant and young son Robert of Government street are passing a week at Old Orchard.

Mrs. Charles Weeks is confined to her home at Remick's Corner by illness.

Nath Hubbard of Cambridge is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hubbard at the Intervene.

Chief Boutwell J. C. Lindberg who has been ill at the naval hospital was conveyed to his home on Wentworth street on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Woods and Miss Emma Gleason of Whipple road have returned from a short trip in New York.

Messrs. Maurice Duncan and Edwin Phillips, Mrs. James H. Walker and the Misses Lillian Walker and Julia Duncan passed today at the Isles of Shoals.

York Rehoboth lodge will hold its annual picnic on Tuesday, Aug. 24, at Central park, Dover. Cars will leave Navy Yard Station at 9 a. m. Tickets may be secured from the committee in charge.

THE WAY TO KEEP COOL

There is no better way of passing the hot days than by taking a sail on the newly equipped steamer Juliette to the Isles of Shoals. A few hours on Star Island will do you and your family much good. You can take your luncheon along with you, or better still, lunch is served at a moderate cost at the Oceanic Hotel. If you are planning on entertaining guests there is no better way than by giving them a trip to these historic islands. There is no place where you can obtain so much for your money than by buying a round trip ticket at 60c.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral services of Belle C. Locke, wife of Oliver E. Locke, will be held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Hilton, 718 Middle street, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Friends invited. Eulogy and flowers.

FAST TEAM COMING FOR BENEFIT GAME

NEWMARKET NINE TO PLAY
PORTSMOUTH TEAM SATUR-DAY AFTERNOON

Listen here! Because of the lack of support, you fans, the players on the P. A. C. and the Y. M. C. A. came to the conclusion that you didn't want any more baseball, so they decided that the best way out of it was to call last evening's game off. Here is one last opportunity to redeem yourselves. It is tomorrow afternoon at the same little place.

During the early part of the season two of the boys who have been working for your amusement and have been trying to give you the kind of baseball that you wanted, were injured. As they were hurt while playing ball and their injuries required the services of physicians that were rather expensive, it has been thought by some that you would be willing to come across at a game, the proceeds of which will go to the players as part reimbursement for their financial losses by being out of work and paying their doctors' bills. This game on Saturday will be played between the best team that Portsmouth can find from the ranks of the Sunset League against the fast Newmarket nine. This Newmarket team is considered one of the fastest semi-professional baseball organizations in New Hampshire and the claim that the Sunset League players can form a nine second to none in the state will be proved correct or not in Saturday's game. At any rate, it will be a good game, win or lose, and the fact that it will give you fans the opportunity of making "good fellows" out of yourselves should make the crowd one of the biggest that the park has seen since the opening game last May.

YACHTSMEN'S BANQUET A GRAND SUCCESS

Complimentary Dinner to Founder of Portsmouth Yacht Club Enjoyed Last Evening

The members of the Portsmouth Yacht Club held their complimentary banquet to ex-Commodore Charles S. Drowne, the founder of the club, and now a resident of San Diego, California, last evening. The hospitality of the club is too well known to require the statement that all present were treated royally. It was perhaps one of the most successful affairs that this lively body of men have undertaken, both as to the dinner itself and the way the guests were treated. Good fellowship reigned supreme from the opening of the banquet until the last guest departed late at night. A visitor at the club, not a member, stated that the sign over the gate at the entrance to the club should be made to read, "Leave behind all business cares, and troubles, all ye who enter here."

Following the serving of the banquet, at which Commodore Luke Ashworth presided, the secretary, Charles Hatch, gave a short account of the founding of the yacht club by Mr. Drowne, the first meeting being held in Mr. Drowne's home with three others present. From those four men the present club grew. At the first regular meeting, there were forty-seven men present, and the meeting was held in the loft of the present quarters, which was built by Mr. Drowne. At that time the building was not completed, boards being laid loosely on the rafters, of the upper story to allow those assembled there to have a place for their meeting. Mr. Hatch then presented Mr. Drowne, who told of what his connections with the club had meant to him, and of his life in San Diego.

In reference to the club the ex-commodore urged that more yachts should be built or purchased, as that was what would make the club grow. He mentioned the fact that he regretted that he had no boat at the present time and that he was in the habit of hiring a cat-bout at times, trying to imagine that he was sailing the is the 2 1/2 grains of a harmful drug in the average cup of coffee.

Coffee roasters know that there is caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug in coffee. But they dodge the issue and talk about flavour. Proof lies in the fact that some coffee concerns have tried, without much success, to rid coffee of its caffeine.

Daily blows of this coffee-drug finally result for most people, in nervousness, headache, heart flutter or some other form of caffeine poisoning.

You may not think coffee hurts you, but to be sure, quit coffee ten days and use the pure food-drink—

VIEW OF TOP OF SEA WALL BUILT TO PROTECT CITY OF GALVESTON

TOP OF GALVESTON SEA WALL.

In the terrific storm which swept Galveston the wind reached at times the sensational velocity of ninety miles an hour. The sea surged madly over the wall. Thousands of homes have been vacated, and their occupants left the city on overcrowded trains. Galveston's isolation served only to intensify the suspense in other cities as to her fate. But the fact that the wind was blowing from the north and the water, which had backed into the streets, was from the Bay side of the island, led to the hope that the gale would not result in a disaster. The storm which devastated Galveston and drowned 8,000 persons on Sept. 8, 1900, tore at the city for twelve hours from a southeasterly direction and piled great seas in upon the frame buildings at the south side of the city, dashing them to kindling and making a denting boom with which to batter away buildings further inland.

as it is very probable that they knew what to expect.

The Menu.
Steamed Clams.
Clam Chowder.
Hot Broiled Live Lobsters.
Crackers. Pickles. Rolls.
Coffee.

The kitchen was in charge of Peter Peculiar, who proved to be a master at the art. Everything was cooked to perfection and he had entire charge of the dinner, including the purchasing of the supplies. The serving was done under the direction of Frank Wasser, assisted by Messrs. Ducker, Randall, Chittibilly and Jones.

Following the evening program pool, billiards and music were enjoyed until a late hour. Before adjourning the members present gave a vote of thanks to the newspapers of the town for the assistance rendered by publicity to the several yacht events that the club had held.

Among the visitors at the club this week were Robert P. Baker and party in the "Thyrle" from the Columbia Yacht Club, South Boston, Mass.; George S. Hoyt and party, the "Surt", Manchester, N. H.; H. E. Pierce and party, South Freeport, Maine, in the "Yieldo." A glance at the visitors' book kept at the club, would convince all that the Portsmouth Yacht Club is one of the most hospitable on the Atlantic coast. Among the "remarks" are the following: "Best greeting on the entire trip," "We will be delighted to call again," and one party from a Boston Harbor Club wrote on the records, "Thanks, wrecked, repaired and sent on our way, rejoicing."

WILL HOLD FETE TOMORROW AT RYE BEACH

The New Hampshire Coast Association, an organization for the promotion of social interests in this section of the state, will hold its inaugural Fete at Rye Beach, on Saturday. The afternoon fete will take place on the grounds of the Abenaki Golf Club, from 3 to 6 o'clock, and will consist of a fine program of events, including a flag-raising and presentation.

Addresses will be delivered by Gov. Rolland H. Spaulding, Hon. Daniel R. Francis, former governor of Missouri, Hon. John K. Tener, former governor of Pennsylvania, and other distinguished speakers.

The presentation of golf trophies to the successful contestants in the 14th Annual Golf Tournament of the Abenaki Club by the president, Hon. Robert A. Southworth, will also take place at this time. Music for dancing and a concert program will be played during the afternoon by the First Corps Cadet Band of Boston.

The evening will be given over to a masked ball at the Farragut Casino and will begin at 9 o'clock.

The officers of the association for the year of 1915 are: President, Col. George M. Studebaker; vice-presidents, Gen. Edgar R. Champlin, Francis R. Drake; Secretary, Mrs. O. L. Halsey; Treasurer, Miss Mary I. Bacheider; Executive Committee, Hon. Alvan T. Fuller, chairman; Col. H. Clinton Taylor, and Col. Ned Arden Flood.

The management of the Portsmouth Theatre is promising some more fine acts for the last three days of the week.

When N. H. College Opens.

Durham, N. H., August 18—A new era will dawn in Durham when the college re-opens in September. It will be the era of good housing for all students for President Fairchild has just been assured by the builders that the new dormitory for men will be completed and ready for occupancy when the students arrive.

This happy circumstance is the result of a long campaign. Many weeks were spent at Concord last year explaining the situation to the legislature there assembled, but all listened, and some came to Durham and saw, and the money was forthcoming. Hereafter, for a time at least, persons will not bring their sons to Durham and then hurriedly take them back again because they were unable to find suitable rooms for them. That time is gone forever.

This year the new dormitory will be able to hold all freshmen, or a combination of freshmen and upper classmen. The dazed freshmen will not have to run around from house to house begging to be taken in at any cost and under any circumstances. He will have a good room in a fine, clean, new warm and well ventilated new fire-proof brick building. Alumni when they get back next June will stand mute, agast, as they gaze at it. It will mean to them that the old order has given way for the new, and has given way with a vengeance.

The new building was begun in May and the roof is now on, and work is being rushed on the interior. Gangs of men are busy all day long, and have not halted operations for a moment. Dean C. H. Fettes, the ranking member of the faculty, had made accurate surveys before the legislature appropriated the money, and this, together with the fact that the architect had practically completed his plans, enabled the contractor to begin his work almost the moment the contract was completed.

The dormitory has a good site a few rods east of Thompson hall on the main street of the village. It is of red brick, in colonial design with a long central portion and two transverse wings. It will house a hundred and six men.

Not only will this building give the men good rooms, but it will furnish a standard for the owners of other rooms to live up to. The new dormitory is to be a model of cleanliness. There will be a caretaker on duty at all times. And there will be careful inspection of rooms daily. The parents of New Hampshire boys can send them to Durham now and know that so long as they are housed by the college, they are being carefully cared for. This doesn't mean any mollycoddish paternalism, but it does mean that modern, sanitary requirements will be readily and rigidly enforced.

If the college grows as rapidly as it has been doing the past five years, another dormitory will be needed by the time the legislature meets again. There are two now for the women students. One of these, Smith Hall, is a modern brick structure built for the purpose. The other is a frame building, formerly a fraternity house, which was rented by the college last year when it became apparent that Smith Hall could never accommodate the new girls. This season enough new arrivals are expected to fill Ballard Hall as the second dormitory is called, and perhaps there will be an overflow.

While the dormitory problem will always be a pressing one here, one matter has already been settled by President Fairchild. Each dormitory the college does acquire will be operated for the benefit of the students, and the most scrupulous care will be taken to insure wholesome living conditions.

NAVY CONFIRMS EDITOR'S STORY AS TO GERMANS

Except in one particular the fullest confirmation was given at the navy department to the statement printed in the Providence Journal Wednesday that a conference had taken place between Secretary Daniels and two members of the government neutrality board with the editor of the Providence Journal, at which the editor had presented a mass of information to prove the existence of the German propaganda and the activities of a German spy system in the United States for several years before the outbreak of the present war in Europe.

It was admitted at the department that as a result of the information fur-

ASK CITY TO BUY MAXWELL ESTATE

Seamens' Friend Society Present Petition to Council for Site for New Home

The special meeting of the city council to hear the quarterly report of the Board of Public Works was held last evening at the City Hall, Mayor Harry B. Venton, presiding. The report of the Board of Public Works was read and accepted and ordered to be placed on file. The quarterly report of the city marshal was read, accepted and placed on file.

A petition was presented the council by the members of the Seamens' Friend Society, asking the purchase of the Maxwell estate on Daniel street for a site for the proposed new home for the enlisted men of the United States navy. The committee present to speak in favor of this move was made up by John K. Bates, Clifford W. Bass and Chief Boatwain William L. Hill, U. S. N.

The petition was read and accepted and was referred to the finance committee to be reported on at the next regular meeting of the council. It is thought by some of the members of the committee that the city government thinks very favorably of the move, as all realize that such a home will be a wonderful thing, both for the city and the men in the service.

Petitions by Alice B. Paul and Hannah S. Kelley for the abatement of sewer taxes were presented to the council and were referred to City Solicitor J. R. Waldron.

A petition by John T. Bartlett, presented to the council at a previous meeting for the erection of an electric sign at the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets was granted at last evening's session.

ished by the Providence paper, additional naval officers, and enlisted radio operators had been sent to the wireless station at Sayville, L. I., which the navy department took over, and is now conducting, and that all messages filed or received at Sayville were scrutinized with the greatest care.

The conference took place at night in the office of Secretary Daniels and was attended by Mr. Daniels, James Brown Scott of the Carnegie Peace Foundation, who is chairman of the neutrality board; Capt. James H. Oliver of the navy, a member of the board; and John T. Rathbone, the editor of the Providence Journal. The navy department was impressed with the showing made by the editor of the newspaper and Secretary Daniels sent Capt. W. H. C. Ballard, in charge of the radio naval system, in Providence, for the purpose of making a detailed examination of documentary information that the Sayville wireless station was being used for unneutral purpose in behalf of the German cause in spite of the presence of American naval officers and naval wireless experts.

The single statement contained in the Providence newspaper article yesterday, which was not confirmed at the navy department, was that at this conference in Secretary Daniels' office evidence was presented "that a civilian still employed in the electrical service of the navy department is in the pay of Germany, and as proof of this statement it was shown that two years ago, when the government desired a special report on conditions at Sayville, the report was in the possession of the German government before it reached the United States government."

SON'S CONFESSION ENDS NEW HAMPSHIRE MURDER MYSTERY

Morrison Peaslee, a commission merchant, was arrested yesterday in Portland, Me., charged with the murder of his father, Howard W. Peaslee, a toy maker, at Henniker, N. H., on May 22, 1914.

Young Peaslee confessed and signed the confession.

Young Peaslee says in his confession: "I killed my father. I shot him while he sat at the window. We had quarreled over the sale of a wood lot."

Detectives from the Sherman, Detective Agency, Boston, had been trailing the son for months.

A meeting was arranged yesterday in young Peaslee's offices in the Winslow building, Portland, and Peaslee told the whole story to his business partner. In an adjoining room, at a dictograph, sat John F. Sherman of the Sherman Detective Agency, City Solicitor Robert C. Murchie of Concord, N. H., Chief of Police B. F. Bowden of Portland, City Detective Fred Martin of Concord and other officers, who listened to the whole story.

Then they walked into the room and arrested Peaslee. He told the story again and signed the confession and was locked up in the Portland jail and will be taken to Concord today.

The confession of young Peaslee solves one of New Hampshire's most mysterious murders.

ANNOUNCEMENT

the following prices f.o.b. Detroit, effective Aug. 2, 1915:

Ford Runabout .....	$390.00
Ford Touring Car .....	440.00
Ford Town Car .....	640.00

No speedometer included in this year's equipment, otherwise cars fully equipped

There can be no assurance given against an advance in these prices at any time. We guarantee, however, that there will be no reduction in these prices prior to Aug. 1, 1916.

Profit-Sharing with Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914, we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 200,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car. We have sold over 200,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-1915 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date. We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars delivered during August, September and October, 1915.

The Lesson From Georgia.

The lynching of Leo M. Frank in Georgia will be roundly condemned by believers in the orderly processes of the law, yet the public will do well not to jump too hastily to the conclusion that the act evidences barbarism and bloodthirstiness on the part of the people of that state. All of the facts bearing on a case which has come to such a tragic ending should be carefully weighed before consigning the people of Georgia to the ranks of the uncivilized.

With the details of the murder of which Frank was convicted, and the efforts made to save him from the penalty of his crime, the public is familiar. No man charged with crime could ask for an abler or more earnest defense than was provided for the defendant in this famous case. He had a fair trial and was found guilty. "And then," as is stated in a brief published review of the case, "began one of the greatest legal battles in the history of this country to save the man from death." The case was taken from one court to another, and finally reached the supreme court of the United States, but Frank seemed to be doomed, and after invoking every conceivable principle of law known to the practitioners of this country it looked as though the man would have to die for his crime, until his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Slaton of Georgia on June 21 of this year.

In doing this the governor was entirely within his rights and powers, but the act failed to satisfy a large part of the Georgia public, which regarded it as a miscarriage of justice. The penalty for murder in Georgia is death and Frank had been convicted in spite of all that legal ability and ingenuity could do in his defense.

In spite of all this it is fair to presume that the Georgia public would have accepted the outcome without undue protest if life imprisonment meant what it is supposed to mean—or was once supposed to mean. The frequency with which murderers have been pardoned in the last few years has convinced a large part of the public that life sentences mean nothing definite whatever, and there is little room for doubt that this feeling was largely responsible for this Georgia tragedy.

The lynching cannot be defended, but under the circumstances it can be understood. It was a protest, illegal and blood-curdling to be sure, against procedures which protect murderers against the full penalty of their crimes in so many cases as to constitute a public disgrace.

That is the lesson of this Georgia lynching.

The cancellation of contracts for 2,000,000 bushels of wheat for export is surprising news. The explanation is that Italy, to which most of this wheat was to have been sent, is taking action to prevent speculation, and that this may reduce the price to too low a figure. But under the circumstances there is sure to be a market for all the wheat this country will have to spare, and at prices that will not leave the growers in want.

A "scientist" claims that the heavy cannonading in the European war is responsible for the excessive rainfall in this country. But didn't it take the results a long time to get here? The war began more than a year ago, and up to about the first of July there was far more complaint of drought than of rain. But the school of guessing and speculation is always in session and admission is free.

One woman has learned to her sorrow that the Saratoga race track is not a proper place for the careless handling of a $10,000 necklace. She is in mourning and the detectives are busy, spurred on by the offer of a reward of $1,000 for the recovery of the property.

A convention at St. Paul has decided that the time is not ripe for the elimination of the middleman who stands between the farmer and the consumer. And it never will be so long as the great bulk of consumers want as much waiting on as they do now.

A striking fact in connection with the foreign war is that the ages of many of the leading generals range from sixty to more than seventy years. It is apparent that Oslerism has never gained a foothold in the military circles of the Old World.

"How long will the new president serve?" asks a contemporary in commenting on the recent election in Haiti. It might also be in order to ask how long he will serve-ive.

An American peace congress is to be held at San Francisco in October. According to a recent report from Europe, that is the month set for the close of the war.

The Monday list of casualties continues to show that there are still too many people in the country who do not know how to swim.

CURRENT OPINION

The Great Qualities of Human Nature Not Monopolized by Any Race or Sex.

Let us be frank and honest with ourselves and admit that this question of woman suffrage is not one which biology, anthropology, sociology, psychology, zoology or any of the other "ologies" can settle. Our decision rests upon a judgment or intuition more subtle than any articulate major premise—upon our experiences, our sympathies, our associations, our interests, our lines of reading and thought, our notions of justice and a thousand other considerations.

In view of the fact that science is divided, as is theology, on this woman question I am inclined to hold that a little democracy and humility will get us farther along the paths of justice and wisdom than all the dogmas of the high priests, old or new.

The great qualities of human nature—courage, industry, patience, wisdom, endurance, virtue, honor, originality and sympathy—are not the monopoly or even the "distinct characteristics" of any race or sex or class.

That is why those of us who sympathize with the modern woman movement—even "blatant feminism"—have confidence in its essential soundness.—By Charles A. Beard, Associate Professor of Politics, Columbia University.

SAY ARABIC WAS TORPEDOED WITHOUT ANY WARNING

Only Six Out of 181 Passengers Are Accounted For, With 26 Members of Crew Are Believed to Have Perished.

New York, August 19.—Carefully checking the lists of survivors of the Arabic as given out in London, Washington and New York late tonight, showed that all passengers listed by the White Star line as Americans on board the vessel had been saved. It is possible that some Americans boarded the vessel as she was about to sail and were carried in the list by the White Star line as of other nationalities.

London, August 20.—The big White Star line steamer Arabic, formerly a favorite ship of the Liverpool-Boston service, but which on her present trip was on the way to New York, was torpedoed by a German submarine at 9.15 o'clock Thursday morning, south-east of England.

The steamer, according to a statement of the White Star line, was attacked without warning and went down in ten minutes. Of the 423 persons on board—181 passengers and 242 members of the crew—32 are missing and are believed to have perished. Most of those who have not been accounted for belong to the crew. Only six of the passengers are reported missing.

Whether any of those not accounted for were Americans has not yet been determined, but there were only 26 citizens of the United States on board, 23 being in the second cabin and four in the steerage. The Arabic carried no first class passengers, having lately been turned into a two-class liner.

The survivors who left the steamer in the ship's boats and were picked up later by passing vessels, arrived in Queenstown tonight. They are being accommodated by the White Star line in hotels and boarding houses in the little town which so short a time ago cared for the survivors and the dead of the Lusitania.

Details of the sinking of the Arabic are lacking, but that the toll was no greater doubtless was due to the fact that the weather was fine and that the steamers plying the German submarine zone now keep their boats running out and otherwise are prepared for emergencies.

The torpedo that sunk the Arabic struck her on the starboard side, 100 feet from the stern. The vessel had left Liverpool Wednesday afternoon and taken a southerly course well off the Irish coast, doubtless with a view of avoiding the submarines which frequent the waters nearest the shore.

Some fifty miles west of where the Lusitania was sunk in May, the German underwater boat rose to the surface and launched a torpedo.

The marksmanship of the Germans as in the case of the Lusitania was deadly, and like the Lusitania, the big liner quickly settled and disappeared.

Some of the survivors, according to reports received here, say that they had just witnessed the torpedoing of a British steamer, presumably the Dunstons, and that this had caused great alarm on the Arabic. In their fright the passengers had rushed for life preservers and had barely adjusted them when the German submarine turned its torpedo against the vessel's side.

Ten lifeboats and a number of rafts were quickly put over the side of the steamer and into these a number of the passengers and members of the crew scrambled. Many of the passengers, however, fell into the water but they got hold of the rafts and later were rescued. One woman who fell into the sea screamed pitifully for help.

The weather and tidal conditions being favorable two sailors swam to her assistance and succeeded in lifting her upon a raft.

Among those who were rescued were Captain Will Finch, commander of the Arabic; all the deck officers, the chief engineer, the surgeon, the purser, the assistant purser, the chief steward and the third-class steward. The third engineer, Lugan, is among the missing.

Douglas Escapes Again
One of the passengers on board was Kenneth Douglas, well known English actor. Mr. Douglas was on the Lusitania when she was sent to the bottom. His good luck followed him again today, for he is among the survivors.

When the news of the sinking of the Arabic reached London late this afternoon, it caused a tremendous sensation. The first reports stated that it was feared a large number of the passengers had been lost. Crowds soon gathered at the White Star office making anxious inquiries as to friends and relatives who had taken passage on board the Arabic. Reassuring news came soon by wireless however, to the effect that some fifteen or sixteen boats and life rafts had left the steamer safely and were picked up and were being towed to Queenstown.

Later private telegrams brought the news from most of the passengers that they were safe, although some of them were injured.

Captain Finch was formerly in the Pacific Mail service and for some years has been in command of the Arabic. The steamer is the largest yet sunk by the Germans, except the Lusitania.

WERE STEALING RIDE.

Railroad Detective Gets Two Men Who Jumped Train at Newburyport.

Detective Ferguson of the Boston and Maine railroad today placed under arrest George Martin and John Murphy, whom he caught taking a ride on the head end of the Portland train due here shortly before 11 o'clock. The men jumped the baggage car at Newburyport and shortly after the train got under way the detective hauled them off the platform. One claims to have been on his home and the other to have been on his way to work. They will be arraigned this afternoon on the charge of evading fare.

SALESMANSHIP

This is the newest definition of salesmanship: "The art of selling goods that don't come back to people who do." Good goods is the first essential. But to reach the "people who do come back" it is necessary to get them in the first place. And the logical way to secure them is by telling the merit of the goods in the medium they read—the Daily Newspapers. Those anxious to apply the doctrine of salesmanship may be interested in the booklet THE NEWSPAPERS, which is sent on request by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, 806 World Building, New York.

WAS ACT DELIBERATELY UNFRIENDLY?

Incidents in Connection With Destruction of Arabic That Require Clearing Up.

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, D. C., August 20.—The United States government is not yet convinced that the sinking of the White Star liner Arabic by a German submarine yesterday was "a deliberate unfriendly" act as outlined by President Wilson in his last note to Germany.

Until complete information from American official sources is in his hands, Secretary Lansing today said that he would not try to decide whether or not the rights had been violated. He said he would not attempt to form any opinion nor would the President on the meager details so far available. Only two dispatches have been received by the state department and they do not clear up any of the doubtful grounds.

There are certain instances in connection with the torpedoing of the Arabic that require clearing up. The chief point as cited by the state department experts as requiring actual facts are: "Were there any armed naval vessels which acted as convoy to the Arabic still in sight when she was torpedoed? Was the Arabic en route to the Dunstons previously, and could the submarine have assumed that she was trying to ram his vessel and run him down? Was the opportunity offered to the submarine captain to give the Arabic warning without risking the destruction of his own vessel? The question of convoy is the most important. Secretary Lansing explained today that a merchant vessel accepting convoy waives the rights of visitation and search, but how far that waiver carried following the dismissal of the convoy he said was a question upon which the secretary was silent. The exact circumstances he said would determine that.

It will be two or three days before all of the details which are required as to the accused by President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. Meanwhile they intend to keep an "open mind" on the entire matter. At the White House it was said that the President "would not be stampeded" into hasty action no matter what pressure was brought to bear. As evidence that the matter was to be handled deliberately the President slipped away from Washington today and went to Philadelphia for his annual consultation with his occultist.

HOLDING CONFERENCE AT WARSAW

Warsaw, August 20.—The annual Woman's Bible conference began at Warsaw today and will continue for nine days. In connection with the conference there is held the young women's conference, the conference of Christian Jews, Woman's Christian school conference, the church efficiency congress, the conference of foreign missionaries, the annual meeting of the International Association of Evangelists and denominational meetings.

Mrs. Carrie Stewart Bessner and Mrs. William Peterson are the leaders of the young women's conference. Miss Lois M. Lawrence is the secretary. Among the prominent speakers will be Mrs. Charlotte Vieters, president of the International School of Missions, and Mrs. William Asher of the Billy Sunday party.

The Jews' conference is an annual event, and it draws many Christian Hebrews from all parts of the country.

August 26 will be Evangelists' day. The Rev. Herbert C. Hart is president and the Rev. Charles T. Wheeler is secretary of the evangelist conference.

Among the foreign speakers on the conference program are the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of London and the Rev. E. C. Dixon of London.

BELGIAN COMMISSION DOES GOOD WORK

New York, August 20.—Some idea of the volume of food purchases and shipments made by the Commission for Relief in Belgium during the summer months may be gained from figures presented by the current report of the commission. Including the grain and foodstuffs sent from the United States ports alone, the shipments have reached a total of 153,216 tons, or 1,026,103,810 pounds. These figures, it should be remembered, do not include the cargoes sent from Canadian and other foreign ports, which would bring the aggregate up to it does not exceed 2,000,000,000 pounds, and the approximate total cost is nearly $80,000,000.

From the United States ports thus far 77 shipments of food and clothing have been sent to Belgium by the commission. During the winter and spring the requirements of Belgium to feed its population of 7,000,000 on a per capita ration of ten ounces a day which is about one-third of a soldier's ration—necessitated the sending of a shipment of food every 48 hours.

ROBBING HEN COOPS.

Boys Admit Making Daily Visits to Places on Richards Avenue.

The people on Richards avenue and other sections have complained to the police of the loss of eggs from hen coops. Today two small boys, who hardly realized the seriousness of their acts were brought in and admitted that they had been robbing the nests. When questioned as to what they did with the eggs they claimed they threw them away. Chief Hurley gave the lads some talk and they promised to stop the raid on the hen fruit.

The field day to be held at Rand's Grove, Ryegate Wednesday under the auspices of the Odd Fellows of District No. 5, promises to be a big success and a day of enjoyment for all who attend it. A good dinner will be served. A band will be in attendance and sports of all kinds will be conducted.

DITCHED AUTOMOBILE CATCHES AFIRE

Party of Tourists Have Unpleasant Experience on Beech Ridge Road, York.

A large touring car owned by a Providence, R. I. man, who, together with his family, are stopping at the Ocean House, York Beach, met with a rather bad accident on Beech Ridge Road, York, on Thursday evening.

This gentleman, his wife and young son, and two other ladies were in the car at the time. They were driving along at a moderate rate of speed when they encountered another car coming in the opposite direction. As the road is very narrow at this point in turning out the car containing the party of five went over into a ditch, but fortunately did not overturn. However, the car was up to the hubs in mud and all efforts to get it back into the road again were in vain. Other passing motorists offered their assistance but it was of no avail. To make matters worse the car in some manner caught fire and was soon a mass of flames. It was thought that the machine was doomed and efforts were turned toward saving persons belonging in it.

In the meantime the little boy, a lad of nine or ten, exhibiting a beautiful example of childish faith knelt down by the roadside with tears streaming down his cheeks and began to pray aloud thus: "God save papa; God save the car." Then rising with a look of pence on his boyish face he said he knew it would be all right. His prayer was answered very soon for meanwhile those gathered around had gone to nearby houses for water and this together with dirt was thrown onto the blazing car and after a short time the flames were extinguished. The damage is estimated at about $100.

The car had to be left by the roadside overnight and today was towed to the beach. Word was sent by telephone and another machine came and carried the party to their hotel.

TIME UP TODAY.

Grand Trunk Must Meet Order of N. H. Public Service Board.

Today is the last day set by the Public Service Commission for the Grand Trunk railroad to file a statement of its expenditure to influence legislative and public opinion in New Hampshire since 1912. The Grand Trunk failed to file a statement in July, when the Boston and Maine and other important railroads operating in New Hampshire filed.

The commission informed the Grand Trunk of the omission and received a courteous reply that the matter had been overlooked. The public service board then fixed August 20 as the date before which the statement should be filed. The statement had not been received this morning at the office of commission in the state house but it was expected today.

Quite a number from this city are in attendance at the golf tournament at the Abenaki grounds at Rye Beach.

The British submarine B-13 has been lost with 15 men off the Danish coast.

BAD MONEY IN CIRCULATION

Watch Out for Counterfeit Two and Five Dollar Notes.

The national bank of this city has been notified by the treasury department to be on the look out for two new counterfeits.

The attention of the public is also called to the fact that the spurious bills are in circulation. One is a $5 bank note on the "First National Bank of Omaha, Ill." and the other is a $2 counterfeit silver certificate. The bills are described as follows:

"Five dollar national bank note—On the First National Bank of Omaha, Ill.; check letter 'A'; series of 1902-3; J. C. Napier, registrar of the treasury; Lee McClung, treasurer of the United States; portrait of Benjamin Harrison; charter number, 10291; bank number, 885; treasury number E35496B. Printed from crudely etched plates on two pieces of paper, between which silk threads had been distributed. It is very poor."

"Two dollar silver certificate—Series of 1899. Appears to be from wood cut plates and is so poor as to be unworthy of detail description. Bears no check letter and 'Registry of the Treasury' and 'Treasurer of the United States' are omitted."

COLONIAL MAIDS ARE A HIT AT THE PORTSMOUTH

The big audience at the Portsmouth Theatre last evening who witnessed the first evening's offering of the Colonial Maids in their minstrel performance, were more than delighted with the production. The act is one of the classiest offerings on the vaudeville circuit today. Their musical numbers were pleasing to the fullest extent, and their jokes fresh and new. As far as the dressing of the act goes, it is without exception one of the best that has played on the local boards for years. After seeing the act last evening it is not to be wondered at that it has occupied the principal position on all the vaudeville bills in this section of the country. Judging from the applause that was given the act it was considered one of the best that has played here.

The Three Zecks in their wonderful aerial work on the big stage showed up to great advantage. The act is sensational from start to finish and the two men and one woman did some of the best work on flying rings and the trapeze that has been seen in Portsmouth. All their equipment is novel and their stunts sensational in the extreme.

Charles Doyle in his character comedy songs and recitations also proved himself to be a good entertainer. His act is certainly different from the usual run of single acts seen in vaudeville and his efforts to please were fully appreciated.

SOCIETY CIRCUS AT KENNEBUNK

Unique Parade and Performance Attracts

8,000 Persons--Substantial Sum

Realized For Athletics

Building

Thursday, Aug. 19, 1915, will be a memorable day in the annals of the town of Kennebunk for that was when the big Society Circus was held. To say it was a success would be putting it mildly for one of the biggest hits for years was scored by this enterprising little town, and it is believed the affair was the first of its kind ever carried out in the state.

All roads led to Kennebunk on Thursday. Visitors began to arrive at the very first signs of the break of day and thousands poured in right up to the time of the opening performance in the afternoon. People came from the four corners of Maine and from other states, and the summer colony all along the coast was largely represented. The visitors came in automobiles, in carriages, on motorcycles, bicycles, electric cars and some even came in baby carriages for there was a special tent where babies were especially cared for while their mothers attended the "big show." It was estimated that during the day there were over 8,000 people in town.

The large parade, a mile long, was the feature of the morning. It left the show grounds, which by the way was the new athletic field, at 10 a. m., and did not return until 12:30 p. m. The formation of the parade was as follows: Chief of police, platoon of police, chief marshal and aids, Kennebunk Band in wagon, Buffalo Bill, cowboys, Indians, ranch girls, first aid and other autos, animals in cages, clowns, performers, hobo band and specialists.

The antics of the clowns kept the large throng in a continual uproar and the large exhibit of wild animals, captured in the wilds of Kennebunk, also attracted much attention. One of the most interesting features of the parade however, was the original Kennebunk stagecoach, driven by the original driver, Woodbury Hall, 84 years old. Another feature of the parade also was the Ranch girls, cow boys and Indians all native products of the town.

The afternoon performance began in the big tent on the athletic field at 2:30 o'clock, but long before that time the tent was packed and hundreds were turned away because of lack of room. Seventeen hundred saw the afternoon performance, while fully as many witnessed it in the evening. W. C. Berry was the efficient ring master, and Arthur H. Hayes acted as announcer. There were twenty-three various acts, all except three of which were native talent. The grand opening consisted of a review of the "world's greatest performers." Other acts came in rapid succession as follows: Novelty clown act; "The Barrows," balancing vizards; Western pony express demonstration; comedy juggling, by Professor Loder; barreljack riding, introducing Madame Zarolla; bumping the bumps, acrobatic features, Books and Lorella; during pony race between Arizona ranch girls; clowns' famous chorus, entitled "When I Stand Up I Have to Sit Down"; sensational juggling by the Peerless Kinsners; Strong Brothers, tumbling exhibition; the half-breed Indian sport and his horse; Chief Gray Horse and squaw in their far-famed roping and dancing act; baseball fan's dress by Perloett; Rocky Mountain goat race; riding exhibition, showing Picilla's world famous troupe in action; exquisite butterfly dance including Persians, Afghanistan and Swiss artists; broncho riding contest between "Texas Joe" and "Alfalfa Jack" of cowboy fame; modern Sampson, feats of strength, Dr. Benjamin Heller; the one and only Charlie Chaplin in his laughable bit of Chaplinitis; the Bottomless troupe, sensational death-daring coasting feat; Col. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," in one of his "positively last appearance" acts; and a unique and amazing medley of features as a closing, including side-splitting clown act, an aerial stunt, revised version of the latest farce by Adam Forepan, Jr., and his educated elephants, and a cyclone race between all the cowboys and girls of the ranches. The performance was worthy of that of professionals and everyone in the big tent was heartily pleased with the exhibition. There was as usual several side-shows with various "freaks" and these included a living skeleton, a Kennebunker 31 years old, and weighing 81 pounds.

The gross proceeds of the affair were more than $4,000, with a net probably of $1,000. This sum is to be used for the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building on the playground. Hon. George Parsons, the mayor of Kennebunk, who is of a Kennebunk family, has been the general chairman of the committee on arrangements, and C. F. Hosmer the York county Y. M. C. A. secretary who has conducted similar affairs elsewhere, was the executive committee secretary. To these two men much of the success of the affair is due. Frank H. Brown is said to have originated the idea. There were twenty-four committees containing 119 people. The affair was such a big success that already five other towns in the state wish to put on a similar attraction.

BOYS RUN AWAY FROM HOME TO ENLIST

Parents at Chicago Wire Chief Hurley to Detain Them.

Chief Hurley of the police department received a telegram on Thursday signed by W. A. Munger of Chicago in which he desired that his son, accompanied by another lad he detained and prevented from enlisting in the navy. The boys, who ran away from Chicago, are now on their way to Portsmouth and neither of them has the consent of their parents to enter the service. Chief Hurley communicated at once with the navy yard and the recruiting officer replied that no boys answering the description given had applied for enlistment. He was instructed not to accept either of them for the service.

RUSSIANS STILL HOLD THE NIEMEN RIVER

Retain all Kovno Forts on Right Bank--Repulse Teuton Forces on Both Banks of the Bug

London, Aug. 19.—It appears that not all of the Kovno forts have fallen and that the Russians hold all of the defenses on the right bank of the Niemen, which postpones any immediate turning of its second line of defense. South of the Bug the Germans are now before Brest-Litovsk, which is Russia's greatest military station and a railroad center of much importance. Novo Georgievsk, which has been invested for the last ten days, is in imminent danger, as the Germans are making constant progress. Still further to the south the Russians claim to have repulsed the Teutonic forces on both the right and left banks of the lower Bug at Wilinski and Wladimir respectively.

Dvinsk, the principal gate guarding the road from the southwest to Petrograd, a fortress of the first class and the key to the defenses of the great Dvina river, through which the Germans are threatening the interior of Russia and all the line of military and industrial bases in the west, is on the northeastern bank of the Dvina. It is the heavily fortified front door to Great Russia, that division of Russia which stands in the same relationship to the Empire that Prussia holds to Germany. It is situated where the Dvina makes a sharp angle toward the west, midway on the river's course from Vitebsk through marsh and lake land to the opulent commercial and industrial city of Riga upon the Gulf of Riga. The city itself is situated at the intersection of two main railway lines and a very important branch. These are the Warsaw-Vilna-Petrograd line, the Riga-Vitebsk-Smolensk line, and the branch to the fortified Baltic port of Libau, the only port that Russia possessed before the war whose roadstead was always open. The main features of the city are its fortifications. The line between Riga and Dvinsk is 110 miles long. By way of the river it is considerably longer. The line from Dvinsk east-southeast to Vitebsk is 162 miles. This line roughly divides Great Russia from White Russia. White Russia, to the south of the Dvinsk line, is probably the poorest, most backward part of European Russia. While some six million acres of swamp lands have been drained within its water-sogged surface, its general aspect is still largely that of a swamp. In general, the peasants of White Russia are very poor, and have a severe struggle to wage for their existence. This poverty-stricken country, where no great commercial, industrial or cultural center is to be found, is that which now lies before the German armies. Beyond the Great Russian front door at Dvinsk lies the richer industrial and agricultural country of the central empire, while west from Lemberg and Chelm lie the rich agricultural lands of Little Russia, or the Ukraine, and the great city of Kiev.

RUSSIAN SUCCESS ON BUG

Petrograd, Aug. 19.—Russian success on the left bank of the river Bug, where the Germans have been pushed back southwest of Woldawa, and in the region of the Wladimir-Wolynsk, have allayed fears for Kovno (on the main railroad line between Brest-Litovsk and Lutsk), although government institutions already have been withdrawn from the city.

DOLLAR SAYS SEAMEN'S BILL BAD BUSINESS

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—Shippers, exporters and importers were heard yesterday by the Federal Trade Commission in the second of the three days' sittings, which are being devoted to ascertaining the conditions and problems which confront the business men of this country.

Captain Robert Dollar, president of the Robert Dollar Steamship Company, occupied the greater part of the hearing in answering questions concerning the effects of the new seaman's bill.

"Congress may be powerful within the three mile limit," said Captain Dollar, "but when the members get beyond that they don't figure. I'm going to do business, but none of us knows where he stands—even Secretary Redfield."

Captain Dollar said ship owners favored the humanitarian aspects of the seamen's bill, but he asked, "Where does the sailor get off when all the ships have been legislated out of business?"

HIGH STANDARD SET FOR COUNTRY FAIRS

It Has Got to Be Combination of Best in Agriculture, Horse Racing and Vaudeville, Says Chester I. Campbell, Manager of Rockingham Fair.

A country fair has got to be all that the name implies in order to be a lasting success. It stands for and means more than it did twenty-five years ago. It is a strong educational force, and today it is not unusual to find college professors at the heads of the various departments of the agricultural side of the fair. To make it a huge vaudeville show with the agricultural exhibits and horse racing only a minor consideration means the beginning of the end of any fair. "It has got to be a delightful combination of everything that is agricultural with clean horse racing and sensational vaudeville thrills," says Chester I. Campbell, the general manager of the coming Rockingham Fair, which will open Sept. 23 and conclude Oct. 1. "We had a most successful fair from a financial standpoint last year but after careful analysis it occurred to me that the fairs of previous years were held too early in the year to exhibit the real products of farms. So I decided that the coming Rockingham Fair would take

CHESTER I. CAMPBELL, General Manager Rockingham Fair.

SOURCE OF RUBBER PRODUCT.

Rapidly Developing Industry Makes Countries Supplying Crude Material of Special Interest.

"Crude rubber, its source of supply and the conditions governing its progress from the source of American tire factories, have been subjects of especial interest in this country of late," said an officer of a tire and rubber company recently.

Crude rubber is a vegetable product, gathered from certain species of tropical trees, shrubs, vines and roots. It was first introduced into Europe in 1735. It was first used for pencil erasers and in waterproof cloth, and, finally, in solution, in cements. Vulcanizing or curing rubber was discovered in 1844, and thereafter the development of the industry was rapid, though the industry was but an infant in size, compared with now, up to the development of the automobile industry.

Rubber can today be divided into two chief classes—wild and cultivated. These are collected from trees that have grown wild and where there has been no cultivation process. Such trees and shrubs are found mostly in northern South America, Central America, Mexico, Central Africa and Borneo.

The finest rubber in the world has until recently been obtained from the Amazon region of South America and is known as fine Para. For over a century this rubber has been gathered in practically the same way. The native goes into the forest, selects a tree, cuts V-shaped grooves in the bark with a knife made for the purpose, the grooves being cut in herringbone fashion around the tree, with one main groove down the center, like the main vein in a leaf. The latex of the tree (not the sap) flows from the smaller veins and down the center vein into a little cup placed to receive it.

PARISIAN EASTER EGGS.

Three years ago the city of Paris presented the egg with a wonderful Easter egg. It was incriminated with precious stones and rested on a cushion of the finest silk. The egg was surmounted by a golden crown, in which was an almost invisible button. When the button was pressed the egg flew open and revealed a charming portrait of the czar.

HIS HANDICAP.

One of the penalties of approaching age is clumsiness," confessed Merton Morose, on whose head the frosts of time have been sitting down for quite a spell. When I move carelessly about a room I knock over five things, on an average, and when I am especially careful I knock over ten.—Judge.

place in harvest time when we would have the best that New England farms and orchards could offer to compete for the premiums.

"You can't judge the agricultural side of a fair and make it successful, I am convinced that the average city man who goes to a country fair is more vitally interested in the aristocratic cattle, sheep, pigs, poultry and dogs and farm products than he is in the 'death' defying vaudeville acts, horse racing and midway. He may not think that this is the side of the fair that draws him but eliminate these features or minimize them and the city folks will keep away."

"Of course, that is the story with the farmer. When the latter goes to a fair he wants to see the best that there is in farm products and cattle. He goes to improve his mind. He expects to see the most improved methods of farming, the most modern farming and dairy machinery and the hundred and one things that mean a compact course in modern farming."

"In planning for the coming Rockingham Fair our main purpose is first of all to stage the very best that can be obtained in the agricultural side of the show. We will of course have a fine program of running and trotting races and will stop at no expense to put on the most sensational vaudeville stage show that can be obtained. Not one dollar of the money appropriated for the agricultural show will be sacrificed in order to put on a greater vaudeville show. The fair has got to be well balanced. Each department has got to be maintained at a very high standard."

"We will reach out for every feature that is educational as well as amusing. There will be apple packing and poultry dressing contests. In fact Manager Pattee will introduce a dozen novelties to stimulate the interest of the young folks from the farming districts."

"A real new one for Rockingham will be a baby show. It will be a baby health contest. Nothing, of course, is nearer the mother's heart than the baby. At this show she will have a chance to see and hear of everything that is best for baby. I will endeavor to get the medical experts in the country to give their services to this feature of the Rockingham Fair."

INFINITELY VAST AND LITTLE.

They Baffle Understanding and Cause Apparent Contradictions in Scientific Facts.

The infinitely little and infinitely vast alike baffle the understanding, developed as it is by our concrete finite life. Creation is typified by the sphere. A circle is a straight line that at every point ceases to be a straight line, and the earth's surface is a plane that every moment ceases to be a plane. Following the surface of the earth does not carry us to the under side, because there is no under side—there is only a boundless surface. But if it were possible for us to build a globe on the globe, as large as the one we inhabit, would it not have an upper and an under side? The rain causes the grass to grow, and the sun causes the snow to melt, but we cannot apply the idea of cause, in this sense, to nature as a whole, but only to parts of nature. Gravitation caused Newton's apple to fall, but what causes the earth to fall forever and ever, and never to fall upon the body that is said to attract it?—John Burroughs, in Atlantic Monthly.

LIVED BECAUSE IT WAS PAT.

Like Many Another Americanism, "Anxious Seat" Needs No Apology for Its Use Anywhere.

We are indebted to a contemporary for the information that an American preacher named Finney invented the term "anxious seat" as the name of the bench upon which those convicted of sin at revivals might sit to signify their desire for prayers. The expression was coined 70 or 80 years ago and must have been slang in its day. Having originated in this country, it bears the added opprobrium of being an Americanism and so should have been doomed to death according to the purists' standard long ago. It didn't die, perhaps because its original slanginess made it so much more snappy than its British equivalent, "penitent form," but what we are wondering about is whether Billy Sunday's much-heralded vocabulary may not supply some words to the stock of the revivalist that will some day be as respectable as this bit of verbal collage which was new in the '30s and is venerable now.—St. Louis Republic.

ADJUDGE DERRY YOUTH INSANE

Edward Dion, Alleged Firebug, Committed to State Hospital.

Derry, August 19.—Edward Dion, the young man arrested last night on the charge of attempted arson, was arraigned before Judge Gilman in the local municipal court this morning and in the presence of an unusually large crowd of spectators. Dion was not represented by counsel, and pleaded not guilty.

Following a recess and after consultation with the court, the selectmen ordered an examination of the prisoner which resulted in a thorough examination by Drs. Freeman A. Tower and George H. Beekley, who this afternoon pronounced him insane, and ordered his commitment to the state hospital at Concord, whither he was taken this afternoon by Policeman Frank Boyle.

Although the general sentiment appears to be that he set the fires, much sympathy is felt for him in his trouble, and hopes are entertained that with proper treatment he will be himself again. His course, since he has been out of work seems to have completely unsteadied him, and he trembled like a leaf when he stood before the judge this morning and pleaded not guilty.

Numerous instances have been recalled today, particularly when he was employed by Maynes and Company, during which several fires were discovered in the back store and in the rear of the building, yet no clue ever presented itself as to who the perpetrator was. Another case was brought to the public attention today in which it was stated that Dion was seen to alight from a grocery wagon the past summer and set fire to the grass just over the line in Londonderry, with the result that quite a territory was burned over.

That the matter was a constant prey upon his mind is evidenced by a remark he made to an occupant of the Whitney block a few days ago when he said that everything he ate and drank tasted and smelled of fire. This was one of the points as to the question of his sanity, and a physician said today that he had an "alcoholic mania for fire."

BROCKTON TUB WINS PLAYOUT

Portsmouth Tub Finishes in Eighth Place

-- "Vets" Report a Fine Time at Marblehead

The hand tub Eureka manned by the members of the Franklin Pierce Association did not win at Marblehead on Thursday at the 22d annual muster of the New England League of Veteran Firemen, but the members are well pleased at their showing and report the time of their life. Twenty-four machines took part in the contest.

At eleven o'clock there was a street parade with the Marblehead fire department under Chief John T. Adams acting as escort. John G. Stevens was chief marshal, John M. Ward, chief of staff, and the aids were Reuben A. Paine, Thomas J. Cudihy, Percy Alexander, Peter McCauley and George Beals.

The judges on the pipe were J. H. Walker of Lowell, Joseph Miller of Salem, W. H. Hathaway of Gloucester, Captain William H. Brown of Marblehead, Ex-Chief John D. Randall of Portsmouth, William Mayberry of Braintree, Ex-Senator Perkins of Providence, Leroy Whitman of Cranston, R. I., and Colonel Walker of Somerville.

The league committee in charge of the muster comprised Patrick Manning of Amesbury, John Hartigan of Newton, Fred Hunt of Cranston, R. I., Horace W. Gray of Portsmouth and John G. Stevens of Marblehead.

The White Angel of Salem won the first prize for the best appearance in the parade, the J. W. Plaisted of Portland for coming the longest distance and the Caspase of Providence for having the largest number of men in line.

The Hancock of Brockton took the first prize $200, the Fire King, of Pawtucket, R. I., second, $150, the Liberty of Providence, R. I., third, $75, and the Germania of Chelsea, fourth, $50. The summary:

Name and Place	Feet	Inches
Hancock, Brockton	214	3 7/8
Fire King, Pawtucket, R. I.	214	1 3/4
Liberty, No. 1, Providence	204	2 3/4
Germania, Chelsea	199	2 3/4
Oka, Marblehead	195	8 3/4
Gen. Taylor, Everett	191	6 3/4
Hingham Vets, Hingham	185	10 1/2
Eureka, Portsmouth, N. H.	185	00
Volunteer, East Greenwich, R. I.	184	6 3/4
Alabama Coon, Stoughton	181	5 3/4
Liberty, Chelsea	176	07
Gov. Bradstreet, North Andover	176	6 3/4
Konahussett, Cohasset	173	3 3/4
White Angel, Salem	171	5 3/4
Nonantum, Newton	170	4 3/4
Union, Haverhill	169	10 3/4
Casper, No. 3, Providence	168	10 3/4
Protection, Amesbury	160	11 3/4
Veteran, Charlestown	155	11 3/4
Live Oak, Somerville	151	3 3/4
Red Jacket, Cambridge	148	1 3/4
J. W. Plaisted, Portland	145	3 3/4
Paul Revere, Haverhill	135	02

won fame on the fog of war boards, claim they are too busy at present to even consider a challenge from any quarter.

That the last bell alarm for a fire was sounded July 11.

That Ezra Towle is lamenting over the defeat of the Veteran Firemen at Marblehead on Thursday.

That Ezra is said to have placed a few dollars on the Eureka to capture first money.

That the lobster hatchery for Hampton or Hyacinth spoken of some time ago is still in the air.

That Kitchener must have had an old calendar when he said the war would start May 1st.

That the aerial act at the Portsmouth Theatre is the best act of its kind ever seen on a Portsmouth stage.

That a Chicago physician says humans can grow fat by eating hay.

That the most of us will take the chance of being skinny and prefer to hit the hay instead of eating it.

That every time a girl's heart is broken she is sure to save the pieces.

That the only time a woman pays a telephone charge without a kick is when she calls up the neighborhood to impart some gossip.

Marblehead on Thursday to watch the firemen's muster.

That he later visited Lynn and made a call on friends.

That he wanted to get the 7.30 p. m.

train from Boston for Portsmouth.

That he certainly did a lot of riding to get it.

That some one told him he would have to go to Boston to make connections.

That he hopped aboard the train for the Jub and planted himself in a seat in the smoker.

That he kicked himself when he reached Lynn again and found that the train made a regular stop there.

That he claims the excitement of the muster caused the confusion.

WILL TAKE A LONG TRIP

Albert R. Junkins Will Visit
Many Places of Interest on the West Coast.

Albert R. Junkins leaves on Saturday to attend the General Grand Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons, as a delegate, which will convene in San Francisco September 1, 2 and 3. After leaving Boston he will go to Buffalo, thence to Chicago, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Sacramento and San Francisco, making stops at Denver, Colorado Springs, and Salt Lake City. On the return he will go by boat from San Francisco to Portland, Oregon, and thence to Seattle by rail. The trip from Seattle to Vancouver will be by boat. From Vancouver he will cross the Canadian Rockies to Whistler and return home by St. Paul and Chicago. He expects to be absent about four weeks and during that time travel between 9 and 10,000 miles.

A BELATED

ARGUMENT

It is too late now to say: "Women should not vote, their place is in the home." It might have been listened to in the days before the industrial revolution, when woman's work was done in her home. But now she has been forced to play her part in the world in competition with men. It was inevitable that she should protest against being handicapped in this struggle by the denial of the protection of the ballot.

THE HERALD HEARS

That sharks are reported by someone at Hampton Beach.

That this is not the only report that has been started this year with the idea of putting a crimp in the business at this summer resort.

That it's a safe bet that there are more sharks on the land than in the waters of the Atlantic at this part of New Hampshire sea coast.

That neither the sea or land sharks seem to keep some of the Portsmouth boys from going over every night since the season started.

That the dust on Daniel street is so heavy that it will soon be necessary to remove it with a steam shovel.

That the Veteran Firemen were out of luck at Marblehead on Thursday.

That if the stream they threw from the hand tub Eureka had landed on the paper instead of on the slides, they would have made 217 feet instead of 185 feet.

That the wind they claim was the only hoodoo of the day.

That the vets will continue to be in the game and keep themselves in the limelight.

That Wallace Gove of Myrtle avenue has a goose 31 years of age.

That the bird will be exhibited for the first time at one of the fairs in Maine this year.

That he has many times been worked as a decoy in the waters of Great Bay.

That the Portsmouth navy yard has certainly figured good under the present administration for work.

That it appears that Secretary Daniels is keeping his word which he gave the Board of Trade and the business men at the banquet tendered him on his first visit to Portsmouth.

That the marine guard at the navy yard will shortly be reduced in numbers.

That the interest in the coming Portsmouth Fair is increasing every hour.

The Big Act or Headliner

THE COLONIAL MAIDS—The "Merry Maids of Minstrelsy." Nine people, all girls. This is an excellent offering of vaudeville. A clever impersonating act that has occupied the principal position on all the vaudeville bills in this section.

THREE ZECKS—Two men and a woman. A sensational aerial act. An act that can be seen to its full advantage on the mammoth stage of this theatre.

CHARLES DOYLE—Character Cody Singing and Recitationist. A gentleman that can entertain in a manner equal to an entire company.
